The Great Political Replacement

by — Andrew Brown

During the temptations of Christ, Satan offered Jesus the kingdoms of this world.

All these [governments,<sup>1</sup> i.e., the kingdoms of :8] I will give you, if you fall down and worship me (Matthew 4:9).

Satan claimed they were his to give and the Lord did not dispute it, so we cannot dispute that the enemy is influencing governments. One need not look far to demonstrate abounding corruption within the political systems.

The failure of governments is inevitable, rooted in the very disease of sin passed through Adam. Man's best efforts to clean up the mess or create a safe haven are limited. But the Lord is not limited! He has already secured the future victory. He will marshal in the greatest political replacement ever known.

There will be no end to the increase of His government ... (Isaiah 9:7).

The Lord taught openly regarding the replacement of Israel's political leaders.

The Kingdom [government] of God shall be taken from you, and given to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof (Matthew 21:43).

The “nation” He refers to is called the “Israel of God” (Galatians 6:16). Formed of “true Israelites,” loyal to the Lord and walking in His ways, the “Israel of God” will enjoy and properly fulfill the privileged position of God's chosen nation out-flowing to all other nations.

Out of Zion shall go forth the law, and the Word of the Lord from Jerusalem (Isaiah 2:3).

The disciples looked forward to this time.

Do not be afraid, little flock, for your Father has been pleased to give you the Kingdom (Luke 12:32).

Jesus said to them,

... in the regeneration, when the Son of Man sits on the throne of His glory, you who have followed Me will also sit on twelve thrones, judging the Twelve Tribes of Israel (Matthew 19:28).

When His Kingdom is set up on Earth, Israel will be gathered (Jerusalem 31; Isaiah 11:12) and the Twelve will be among the most powerful men. Indeed, they with numerous others will be resurrected into life without aging or ailment to fulfill their duties with youthful energy.

The Gospels record missions where the disciples preached and showed forth examples of this Kingdom life. In the Acts Period, which consisted of the Kingdom of God in part, they experienced the great power they will have. Acts showed the replacement of leaders with God's chosen apostles and prophets and the Lord building His cabinet, the out-positioned ones (the Church, ekklesia, the Body of Christ<sup>2</sup>).

These governing apostles were ministers of God rewarding righteousness and providing a taste of what to expect when God sets up His Kingdom.

Everyone must submit to the governing authorities (Romans 13:1).

The entire world will be subject to this perfect rule in the future day.

2. [Editor:] The Greek word often translated as "church" in most English versions is ἐκκλησία (ekklēsia, or ecclesia). The word is a compound word meaning "called-out" (ek = "out"; kaleō = "called"). The ecclesia is God's "called-out" ones. The ecclesia is not a building or denomination; not a meeting, or doctrinal creed; it is not somewhere we go, or something we do, it is who we as believers are. For more information see:

The Lord taught His disciples to pray,

Your Kingdom [government] come, Your will be done, on Earth as it is in Heaven (Matthew 6:10).

This is what was longed and hoped for: a marvelous political overhaul. God's government will replace all others. He is going to transform all of the powers and authorities of this world and make them congruous to the Lord Jesus Christ.

Of the greatness of His government and of peace there will be no end ... establishing and upholding it with justice and righteousness (Isaiah 9:7).

When this political replacement occurs, there will be no advancing army, for this government takeover will be an invasion from within men (Luke 17:21):

The Kingdom Restraints

by — Otis Q. Sellers (1901-1992)

"As I live, saith the Lord God ... I will rule over you" (Ezekiel 20:33).

This is the word of Jehovah to Israel, but this is not true of Israel alone, for in Psalm 67:4 it is decreed that,

He shall judge the peoples righteously, and govern the nations upon the Earth.

By many plain statements in the Word of God it can be established that the day will surely come when God will assume manifest sovereignty over the Earth and its inhabitants, and Jesus Christ will govern the world from His throne in Heaven. This will be the Kingdom (government) of God on the Earth.<sup>1</sup>

One very important characteristic of the manifestation of divine rule will be the restraints that are to be uniformly and equally placed upon all men and nations alike. These restraints will be a fixed char-

1. [Editor:] The “Kingdom of God” encompasses all of God’s future manifest Government – Pre-Millennial, Millennial and Post-Millennial. The “Kingdom of the Heavens” is solely a reference to the Pre-Millennial portion. So, the Pre-Millennial Kingdom is specifically termed the “Kingdom of the Heavens,” and yet remains an integral part of the “Kingdom of God” (as confirmed by its usage in Matthew, as compared with the other Gospels (Mark, Luke, and John)). Therefore, when the “Kingdom of God” is mentioned in Scripture, we must always diligently consider the context to determine whether it is a reference to a specific segment of its expression (Pre-Millennial, Millennial, or Post-Millennial), or of all three portions as a whole.

acteristic of the world that God will establish (Psalm 93:1), and no man will dare to challenge them.

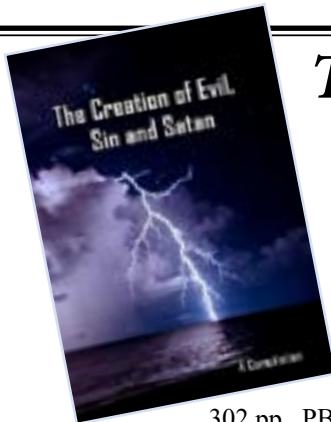

God’s twice-spoken promise will surely be fulfilled:

“It shall come to pass in the last days,” saith God, “I will pour out of My Spirit upon all flesh” (Acts 2:17; cf. Joel 2:28).

God’s spirit will be a powerful restraining force, and we know that when He does it, sin will be restrained, righteousness will be practiced, and judgment will be followed.

That there will be swift punishment for acts of iniquity is clearly demonstrated by records given in the book of Acts. God’s government was then in operation so far as believers were concerned. Ananias and Sapphira died because they lied and misrepresented their giving (Acts 5:1-5). Their sudden death caused such fear among those outside of the believing circle that for a time no one dared to link themselves with the apostles (:13).

In I Corinthians 11:30 (an Acts-period epistle) we

The Creation of Evil, Sin and Satan (A Compilation)

The truth laid forth in this work should help us greatly in our dealings with others, especially those who have failed in some way which may bring dishonor on His Name, or cannot accept His truth, or even oppose it and us, especially mature teachings such as is put forth in the pages of this book. It contains 19 authors, 49 works, spanning 150 years. Authors include: Arthur P. Adams, E.W. Bullinger, Alan Burns, Edward Clayton, John Essex, H.W. Fry, Vladimir Gelesnoff, Norman P. Grubb, Donald G. Hayter, A.E. Knoch, William Mealand, André Piet, Clyde L. Pilkington, Jr., Ray Van Dyke, William H. Walker, and James Webb.

find that many in Corinth were weak and sickly, and some were dead – all because they had sinned against the light that was their portion as a result of being under God's government, which was then in the ear stage of its development.

These were powerful restraining factors in the Acts period, and they will be so again when God manifestly governs the Earth. Every sin and transgression will receive its just recompence.

However, the most important restraint under God's government will be the ministry of God's Spirit acting in the world as a parakletos. This word indicates one who is positioned alongside another to guide, advise and support in any matter that pertains to government. It is a legal term, somewhat like our word advocate, as it is well translated in I John 2:1. This great work of God's spirit is described in some detail in John 16:7-11.

... He will reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment (8).

The Greek word translated "reprove" (KJV) is elegcho, which means "to apprise," that is, to inform or to make the facts known. Under God's government His spirit will be the one true source of information concerning sin, righteousness and judgment. This deals with government and has no application to God's present administration of grace.

The fact that the work described in John 16:7-11 is one of restraint becomes quite clear in II Thessalonians 2:6-7.

And now ye know what withholdeth that he might be revealed in his time. For the mystery of iniquity doth already work: only he who now letteth will let, until he be taken out of the way.

The truth here is somewhat obscured by the weak translation given to the word katecho. It is rendered "withholdeth" in :6, and "letteth" in :7, but it should read "restrains" and "restrain" in these two verses.

Second Thessalonians was written in the Acts period when the Spirit of God was acting as an Advocate to the apostles and as a restrainer of iniquity among the subjects of God's government. However, this aspect of His work does not carry through into the dispensation of God's grace. But when God's manifest government of God is a reality in the whole world, His Spirit will then act as the restrainer of iniquity throughout the inhabited Earth. The result will be that iniquity will be restrained. "They shall proceed no further," is the word of Paul (II Timothy 3:9). "Evildoers shall be cut off," is the declaration of the Psalmist (Psalm 37:11). "All iniquity shall stop her mouth," is the word in Psalm 107:42.

Words such as these speak of restraint. The work of restraint will characterize God's government until His Spirit "gets out of the way" (II Thessalonians 2:7). This is the meaning of ek mesou genetai, not "be taken out of the way" as the KJV renders it. He gets out of the way and this ends His restraining work.

The Kingdom of God is a time for learning. In fact, the chief purpose of eonian life, which is life under God's manifest government in the eon to come, is that men might be knowing the Father, the only true God, even Jesus Christ Whom He commissions (John 17:2).

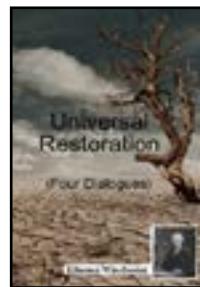

Then, God will suspend His work as the restrainer in order to let men and nations again walk after their own ways. This will demonstrate and test what they have learned during the centuries of divine rule. This end of God's government will be a time which will try every man dwelling upon the Earth (Revelation 3:10). BSN

Before We Were Born

[Excerpt:] We were chosen in Christ before the Disruption of the World to be holy and flawless in His sight (Ephesians 1:4). Our saintliness was ours in God's purpose long before we had sinned.

When Christ died, we died with Him. When He was roused and vivified, we were in Him, and we ascended and sat down among the Celestials in Christ Jesus. Let us not blur this marvelous truth by imagining that all of this occurs for each individual after becoming dead through sin, or in trespasses. Death is oblivion. We were dead to everything before we were born. All of these high honors were ours before we could make or mar them. They are absolutely independent of our conduct.

2. [Editor:] I.e., “An upright stake or pale, without any crosspiece.”

[Edited excerpt:] It is significant that Paul does not despair concerning the enemies of the cross, nor does he place an anathema upon them, but he laments concerning them.

There are two ways to deal with enemies: one is to eliminate them; the other is to change them to friends.

Death is perhaps the most persistent and tenacious enemy of God, and because it is an impersonal force rather than a personal being, God can deal with it in destruction.

The last enemy is being abolished: death (I Corinthians 15:26).

But when the creature is the enemy, then God transforms the enemy into a friend:

Being enemies, we were conciliated to God through the death of His Son (Romans 5:10).

At first sight it would seem that the enemies of the cross of Christ will be destroyed, just as death will be abolished.

Whose consummation is destruction ... (Philippians 3:19).

But this cannot be, since the cross of Christ has, in fact, established our salvation. Surely, we have a figure of speech here, the figure of “near association”<sup>3</sup> where the persons committing acts of enmity stand for the acts. It is the service of the believer which is in view in this context, and it is the selfish and proud works which shall be destroyed.

It is ironic that the glory of the enemies of the cross of Christ is “in their shame” (:19), while the glory of the cross rests on the shame which Christ endured.

All of us would like to be like Abraham and be called “the friend of God” (James 2:23), and we truly would like to be friends of the cross of Christ.

If we are going to be friends of the cross let us realize that all achievement of any value is God’s, and it is gained through the shameful cross.

Paul himself is a special “model” for us today in this time of grace, a model of the friend of the cross (Philippians 3:17). His service was not to build great edifices to the honor of Christ but was “to know Him, and the power of His resurrection, and the fellowship of His suffering” (:10). His service was not to build up a great following (the majority even of believers left him) but that he might gain Christ (:8).

A time is coming when God is going to govern this Earth and men upon it in such manner that it will be unlike anything He has ever done before, even as it is written,

For since the beginning of the world men have not heard, nor perceived by the ear, neither hath the eye seen, O God, beside Thee, what He hath prepared for him that waiteth for Him (Isaiah 64:4).

This is what Isaiah prophesied when He said,

And the government shall be upon His shoulder (Isaiah 9:6).

The time will come when Jesus Christ will take to Himself His great power and will govern the Earth and all men upon it. When He does, this will be the “Kingdom of God.<sup>4</sup>”

In the end, when God's plan has run its course Paul asks the pointed question of Death, "Where is thy victory?" who have you won over? To modern religion, death and hell will have 95% of humanity for all eternity, which is just ridiculous. How can God claim to be the supreme Lord and victor when he gets only 5% of humanity; it would seem to me (in that case) that the Devil is the victor. I thank God I don't worship a weak and impotent God. God will win over all men through love and mercy, and all the universe shall be filled with His glory for all eternity, not just men but the plants, birds, animals and oceans. Psalm 15 presents the question of what type of people will be allowed in this government and sets forth their outstanding characteristics. He who walks uprightly and works righteousness, and speaks the truth in his heart (Psalm 15:2).

In complete contrast to our day, the word “politician” will be equated with honesty, justice and integrity.

The blessings of the Lord's coming government, too numerous to count, will flow into every aspect of every person's life.

The gloomy days of unrighteous politicians in a flawed system fueled by the mess of deeply rooted sin will one day come to a close. The Lord's government is the certain remedy for every tragedy and fault of the governments that have existed throughout history.

Knowing this truth brings light to our hearts even now. BSN
